Any Library event, free event, or public meeting within the Library building is deemed a public event and therefore open to photography and video recordings.

Photos and Videos taken by Library staff

The Library staff may take photographs and videos of people attending library programs and using library services. These images and or videos may be used on the library website, library social media, or any other communication to the public without the prior consent of the subject. Photos and Videos taken by others on Library grounds

Persons wishing to take photographs and videos within the Library or on Library property may do so, as long as it does not disturb, disrupt, or negatively impact patrons' use of Library services and facilities. All photographers must heed the verbal or written desire of patrons who wish to not be photographed or recorded. At any time, Library staff has the authority to ask anyone taking photos or video to stop. Photos or videos that require additional set up, or set up that will be disruptive to patrons require prior approval from the Library Director. Any photos and videos attributed to the Library cannot be used to further a political or religious agenda, or for commercial purposes.
